STUMBLE ON TO YOUNG ROBBERS

While Searching For Muncie Murder, Friendly Auto Light Reveals Hiding Boys to Police.

ONE OF THEM ESCAPES

Bert Newman Arrested and Later Develops Youths Entered Dr. W. C. Smith's Garage.

For once luck favored the police department and through the biggest kind of an accident the robbery of Dr. Will C. Smith's garage was laid directly to Bert Newman and Wamie Craig. Newman is held in jail and the Craig boy is still at large. The Newman boy confessed to Dr. Smith this morning.

The garage was broken into last night and a pair of gloves, a flash light and an overcoat taken. Early this morning while the Muncie police were here looking for a murderer believed to be in this city, the two boys were found hiding along a string of box cars near the C. H. & D. depot.

The Muncie police and Ray Lakin were at the C. H. & D. depot inquiring of the agent if he had seen two strange colored men. While they were standing on the station platform a passing automobile threw a light down the track and the two boys were seen. Thinking that they might possibly be the two men they were hunting the police rounded them up and succeeded in capturing Newman. The Craig boy ran north in Sexton street and even after two or three shots were fired at him he continued to run and has not yet been located.

A revolver was found on the Newman boy along with the overcoats, gloves and flash light. At this time the police did not know that the Smith garage had been entered and simply arrested the Newman boy for carrying concealed weapons and intended to let him explain why he was sneaking around at the hour of four o'clock this morning.

In the meantime Dr. Smith reported the robbery to the police, telling them that one of the parties that entered the garage did not have a heel on one of his shoes as was shown in the tracks left in the mud. Dr. Smith visited the jail and the Newman boy told him the entire story. Dr. Smith identified his property. One of the keys to the garage was taken and Newman told Dr. Smith that the Craig boy had the key. Newman wore a pair of shoes with one heel worn down.

No affidavits have been issued as yet because Prosecutor Stevens was busy all day in the circuit court. He intends to take the matter up tonight. A visit to the Craig boy's home showed that he had not been home last night and his mother suspected that he was in trouble. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Craig. Newman is a son of John Newman. The boys are said to be about seventeen years old.

DORAK GRANTED NEW TRIAL

Man Sentenced to Die in Electric Chair Gets Another Chance.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 15.—Tom Dorak, who was sentenced to die July 9 in the electric chair at Michigan City for killing George Wise and who later was reprieved to October 31, was granted a new trial today by the supreme court. It ruled that Judge Collins placed an undue burden upon the defendant in his instructions to the jury.

MRS. ROSENCRANCE CAUGHT AT VEVAY

WAS MISSING ONLY ONE DAY

Mrs. John Rosencrance, who escaped from the Madison asylum, Wednesday night was captured yesterday afternoon in Vevay, Ind., and returned to the asylum. She took a boat from Madison to Vevay. In the time that she was gone it is thought rather strange here that she got no further than Vevay. Vevay is in the adjoining county from Madison, being not over twenty-five or thirty miles.

The inmates of the asylum often earn money by doing fancy work for people outside and it is believed here that Mrs. Rosencrance secured her money to make the trip in that manner. Chief Rosencrance was greatly relieved last night when he heard that she had been found as he feared that she might have done herself bodily harm.

BURNS FOUR TIMES IN FIFTEEN YEARS

J. D. Case Saw Mill at Milroy is Destroyed by Fire Thursday at Loss of $2,500.

NOT MUCH LUMBER THERE

For the fourth time in about fifteen years the saw mill at Milroy was destroyed by fire at an early hour Thursday. The mill was the property of J. D. Case of this city. The origin is unknown. The machinery in the mill was practically new and the equipment was valued at about $2,500. It is understood that Mr. Case carried no insurance on the building.

A small supply of lumber in the yard adjoining the mill cut down the loss as it so happened that there was not a very large supply on hands. When discovered the blaze had a good start and the volunteer fire fighters extended their efforts towards saving the surrounding property. E. A. Richey managed the mill for Mr. Case. The mill burned about three years ago.

Watson responded to the toast, "The Shoe" at the banquet in the Riley room of the Claypool hotel in Indianapolis Thursday night, closing the two-day meeting of the Indiana Retail Shoe association. The other speech at the banquet was made by Archibald Hall of Indianapolis on the subject, "Our Wives."

CHIROPRACTOR ON TRIAL HERE

William Monks is Charged With Practicing Medicine Without License by State Board.

TESTIMONY HEARD TODAY

Defendant's Patients Swear They Were Benefited.—Hearing of Statewide Importance.

One of the three cases against Wm. H. Monks, charged in an affidavit filed in circuit court by William Gott, of Crawfordsville, secretary of the state board of medical examiners, with practicing medicine without a license, started this morning in the circuit court.

The one being tried charges a specific offense, naming May 5 as the date the offense was committed. The charges is similar to others filed in different parts of the state against the chiropractors and the case here assumed state-wide importance, because of the prominence of the defendant and the importance of the case to the men interested in practicing chiropractic.

Because of this there were chiropractors present from Cambridge City, Franklin, Shelbyville and Indianapolis. In addition to this Ed Fitzpatrick, attorney for the state chiropractors association, assisted John A. Tittsworth in the defense of Mr. Monks. The chiropractors have been demanding recognition from the state and want a representative on the state board. Because of this they took an intense interest in the case here today, because a verdict for Monks would tend to help their cause.

The jury was secured without little difficulty. Prosecutor Stevens is being assisted by Donald Smith. Practically all the witnesses of the state were people who had been treated by Mr. Monks. The form of treatment was described to the jury and in almost every instance it was brought out that they were improved by the treatment.

On cross-examination, the defense brought out that Mr. Monks used no medicine in his practice and prescribed no medicine. Instead of treatment the patient is given "adjustments", using the words of the chiropractors, as the treatment consists of an adjustment of the spine. The publishers of local newspapers were placed on the stand to show that Mr. Monks had widely advertised his practice. Among the witnesses testifying for the state were D. L. Aldridge, Isom Stevens and Ethel Harrell.

The defense brought out that all of the persons who had received treatment from Monks and were testifying for the state were friendly to him and in no way were assisting the prosecution. The offense under the state law of practicing medicine without a license is punishable with a fine of not less than $25 and not more than $200.

The jury is as follows: George Lawson, W. A. Cameron, Ed B. Lowden, John T. Seull, William D. Kirkpatrick, Noah Moore, Conrad Kiser, Thomas A. Jones, W. B. Morris, O. A. J. Hall, W. R. Taylor, E. B. Morris.

Judge Judge Sparks has sent the case of the City of Rushville against the Peoples Natural Gas company to Henry county on a change of venue. The case is an injunction suit and the case was asked by the defendant company.

The Ladies' of the First Baptist church will hold an exchange Saturday, Oct. 16th.

LOOK FOR MUNCIE MURDERER HERE

Police Come Here on Tip From Traveling Man That Charles Taylor Was Seen Here.

"GRAPE-VINE" IS DEVELOPED

If Negro Was Ever Here he Managed to Escape Police Officers of Three Cities Who Searched

A tip from a traveling man that Charles Taylor, colored, wanted in Muncie for the murder of Mrs. Lizzie Boyd, William Wood and Mrs. Alice Woolbridge, all colored, got off a car in this city last night coming from Connersville proved to be a "grape-vine." If the suspected man was Taylor, he succeeded in getting away.

The triple murder was committed about three weeks ago and the Muncie police have run down every available clue but to no avail. So certain was this traveling man that he had Taylor spotted that he insisted on notifying the Muncie police. This was done and four police officers from Muncie arrived here shortly after three o'clock this morning and started a search of the railroad yards in the hope of landing Taylor.

With the local police and Night-watchman Ray Lakin they searched until long after daylight this morning and gave it up. The Muncie police stated that they doubted that the man was Taylor and believed that the traveling man had the wrong "dope."

According to the traveling man, the colored man that he suspected as being Taylor was accompanied by another negro and they got off the car at the car barns at Julian street. Their movements were traced from the time they left the car until they appeared at a local meat market and purchased some meat.

The conductors of all traction cars were asked if any colored men had boarded a car leaving the station here and it was determined that the two did not leave the city by traction. The Connersville police were also asked to look for the two men and in co-operation with the local police and the Muncie department a complete search was made, but no trace of the two men was found. It was thought that perhaps they caught a Big Four train south from the city and Greensburg and Louisville were notified to watch for the two strange colored men. The Muncie men returned home this morning.

NEW ENTRY DOCKET IN USE

Form of Record is Recommended by State Board of Accounts.

A new entry docket has been put in use in the clerk of the circuit court's office. The book differs from the old form in that it is a fee docket combined. The form is recommended by the state board of accounts. In the new book only one case can be devoted to a page, where under the old system any number could be placed on a single page. The new book will mean less work for the clerk as the costs are taxed in one book. The first case on the new book is number 680 and was filed by Albert L. Winship against Harry Colter. The suit is on a note demanding $150.

The First Presbyterian church choir will hold an exchange Saturday October 23d at the Davis Millinery Store.

(By United Press.)

Washington, Oct. 15.—Final approval was given the naval program of Secretary Daniels by President Wilson. It includes approval for a greater amount of building by the government itself than ever before attempted. It is planned that every government ship yard shall be a manufacturing plant, as well as a repair shop. Large amounts will be spent to equip them.

The naval research laboratory, will be built, if congress agrees, but the appropriation asked will be less than the $5,000,000 which has heretofore been suggested.

MYSTERY OF RICH MAN'S DEATH CLEARS

Charles Hagen Admits he Traded Whiskey to John Bond Who Was Later Found Dead.

LIVED NEAR NOBLESVILLE

(By United Press.)

Noblesville, Ind., Oct. 15.—The mystery of the death today of John Bond, wealthy farmer was cleared soon after the satisfaction of county authorities. Charles Hagen, neighbor of Bond, who was arrested and brought here, admitted that while returning from Indianapolis with bottles of liquor, he stopped and drank with Bond. Then he traded Bond whiskey for chickens, he said. Doctors said Bond died of alcoholism. Money received by him in a recent sale is in a local bank. The only charge on which Hagen can be held is "bootlegging."

One report first widely circulated was that he had died of wood alcohol poisoning and had been robbed.

Mrs. Bond returned home last night and found Bond unconscious in the yard. It was first believed he died of apoplexy. The robbery report was believed to have resulted from confusion over robbery of a jewelry store here last night of several hundred dollars.

A baby girl was born to the wife of Mrs. Forrest Remsburg formerly Miss Helen Sexton, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis M. Sexton, here today. The little girl has been named Helen Sexton.

SERBIA OPENS WAR ON BULGARIA

Official Document Says Action Was taken Because of Attacks by Enemy Country.

ALL HOPES OF NO FIGHT END

Deemed Possibility That Prudence Might Lead Czar Ferdinand Not to go so Far.

(By United Press.)

London, Oct. 15.—Serbia declared war on Bulgaria today.

The official Serbian declaration was received here today and said the state of war with Bulgaria existed because of the latter's attack along the line from Zaitcher to Radovista.

Announcement of the Serbian action ended all hopes that Bulgaria might not actually fight with the Tuetonic allies.

Warlike as Czar Ferdinand's attitude has been, it had been deemed a possibility until today that prudence might lead him to stop at fully armed neutrality. A report that Bulgaria declared war on Serbia several days ago has not been officially verified and while there certainly has been frontier fighting it was thought perhaps this was but mere clashing between border patrols such as has been going on in the Balkans most of the time.

BOMBARDMENT IS VIOLENT

Heavy Artillery Fight Progresses Northeast of Souchez.

Paris, Oct. 15.—A violent bombardment raged throughout Thursday night before Loos, the French war office statement said today. A fierce artillery fight progressed also northeast of Souchez.

There were hot grenade exchanges in trenches at some points. All along the Champagne front the Germans directed an intense cannonade against the French front, the French batteries replying energetically.

ARE SENT TO PENAL FARM

Two Raysville Men Get Four Months and $10 Fine Each.

Russell Lozier and Floyd Shaffer of Raysville, which adjoins Knightstown, were sentenced to four months in the state penal farm in the Henry circuit court at Newcastle Thursday and were fined ten dollars and costs each. They were involved in a cutting and shooting fray in Raysville about two months ago. The charges of assault and battery with intent to kill against both men were dismissed and they pleaded guilty to charges of assault and battery.

Not many couples have the privilege of celebrating their sixtieth wedding anniversary, but such is the good fortune of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Hill who celebrated their score years of wedded life at their home Thursday. Mr. Hill came to Indiana from Carolina when a small boy, his father settling in Rush county, Indiana, and is nearing her seventy-ninth birthday. They were married Oct. 14, 1855, coming through hub-deep mud and fording high waters to their present home.

WARDING OFF HOG CHOLERA

In its campaign against hog cholera, which annually destroys live stock to the value of many millions of dollars, the Department of Agriculture has issued suggestions to hog owners to aid them avoiding infection. Hog cholera is most prevalent in late summer and fall. These suggestions deserve particular attention now. They are:

1. To keep hog cholera out of the herd:

1. Locate your hog lots and pastures away from streams and public highways, and do not allow the hogs to run free range.

2. Do not visit your neighbor or allow him to visit you, if either of you have hog cholera on your premises.

3. Do not drive into hog lots when returning from market or after driving on public highways.

4. Do not use hog lots for yarding wagons and farm implements.

5. Do not place newly purchased stock, stock secured or loaned for breeding purposes, or stock exhibited at county fairs with your herd. Keep such stock quarantined at least two weeks, and use care to prevent carrying infection from these to other pens in feeding and attending stock.

6. Burn to ashes or cover with quicklime and bury under four feet of earth all dead animals and the viscera removed from animals at butchering time. They attract the attention of buzzards, dogs, etc., which are liable to carry hog cholera infection.

7. Confine your dogs and do not keep pigeons unless you confine them.

If hog cholera appears in your herd:

Treat your hogs immediately with antihog-cholera serum, after which they should be kept on a light diet and pure drinking water and confined to limited quarters that may be cleaned daily and sprayed three times a week with 1 pound of compound cresol solution to 30 parts of water until the disease has abated in the herd. To obtain the best results the serum must be administered before the disease has progressed in the herd.

To rid the premises of infection: Remove all manure and saturate with quicklime.

Burn all litter, rubbish and old hog troughs.

After the premises are thoroughly cleaned, spray walls, floors, and other surfaces with disinfectant (1 part compound cresol solution to 30 parts water). Where hog houses are

POTATOES GOOD

FEED FOR HOGS

Experiments of Department of Agriculture Show That 4 1/2 Bushels Equal Bushel of Corn

SHOULD BE COOKED FIRST

Suggestions Issued Regarding Prevention of Hog Cholera, Which is Prevalent Now

(By United Press.)

Washington, Oct. 15.—Potatoes as profitable feed for hogs are receiving attention from agricultural experts. Department of Agriculture experiments indicate that 4 to 4 1/2 bushels of cooked potatoes (18 to 20 cents a bushel) will add as much weight to hogs as a bushel of corn (80 cents a bushel).

During surplus production and consequent low prices it may be advantageous for the farmer to feed potatoes to his hogs rather than haul them to market.

Potatoes are fed to best advantage when cooked or steamed and mixed with other feeds. Raw potatoes, fed alone, often cause "scours." On the other hand, in small quantities they add succulence to the diet and may be beneficial to the pigs.

In cooking potatoes for feeding hogs, only enough water should be used to make a mealy mash to prevent burning. The meal should also be mixed with corn meal or some other grain. Skimmed milk, tankage or meat meal probably adds to the usefulness of the feed.

CINCINNATIAN

IS LIVELY AND

BUOYANT NOW

Harry Tepe Tells How he Was Benefited by Using Tanlac.

Cincinnati, O., Oct. 14.—"My nerves now are as steady as any man's," said Harry Tepe, well-known Cincinnati, who lives at 2321 Columbia avenue, when recently discussing his experience with Tanlac, the celebrated medicine now being introduced here.

"I was extremely nervous," Mr. Tepe continued, "and my system was run down. I had a very poor appetite and my sleep was unsatisfactory. I had little ambition and tired easily. Since taking Tanlac it is entirely different. My nerves are steady and I sleep peacefully. I have a ravenous appetite. I feel buoyant and am filled with new life. In fact, I feel like a different man in every respect."

"Such statements as the foregoing should appeal directly to the thousands of those directly to and of those who suffer from troubles similar to Mr. Tepe's," L. T. Cooper, the Tanlac Man, said.

"Most of such people," he continued, "suffer from nervousness, dizziness, headache, stomach and liver trouble, backache, kidney derangements, depression of spirits, imperfect digestion, sleeplessness, or are susceptible to coughs and colds."

"In all instances of this character Tanlac seems to go straight to the spot, toning up and invigorating every organ of the body. The results are really amazing, as it apparently makes you like old-fashioned people were—strong, sturdy and well."

Tanlac, the Master Medicine, is now sold in Rushville at F. E. Wolcott's Drug Store.

small, turn them over, exposing interior to sunlight.

Wallow holes and cesspools should be filled in, drained, or fenced off.

All runs underneath buildings should be cleaned and disinfected and then boarded up.

Destroy hogs that do not fully recover, as they may be carriers of cholera infection.

A Waiting Game.

It has been a year now since negotiations were started between the United States and Great Britain over the right of this country to trade with neutral nations, over the seizure by England of more than 2,000 American cargoes and over the general principles of warfare at sea as affecting the rights of neutrals.

Now we are told in a dispatch from Washington that the proposed protest from the Washington government to London has been held up again. It is out of the hands of Secretary of State Lansing and rests with President Wilson. And all this expenditure of diplomatic effort has been worth nothing so far.

The American government has sent notes without avail. England has not met a single demand of this government; not only that but in many cases the English have not even taken the trouble to notice officially the representations of the United States.

During the negotiations over the loan of half a billion dollars to the allies, it appears to the average person that it would have been easy for the United States to have brought such pressure to bear on England as to have compelled the haughty mistress of the seas to recognize this country's commercial rights, but it was not done.

Now since the loan has been made there are reports of considerable dissatisfaction with the Washington government on the part of the business men who are vitally interested because of the failure to seize the physiological moment to force England to recognize the fact that the present government situated at Washington is not the original thirteen colonies.

A Changing Mind.

It is announced that President Wilson will cast his ballot in New Jersey for the Equal Suffrage amendment. But there is plenty of time for him to change his mind. In the campaign of 1912 he announced himself in favor of free tolls for coast-wise traffic through the canal but in 1913 he secured repeal of the free tolls provision. In 1912 he advocated economy but in 1913 and 1914 he approved the most extravagant legislation in American history. In 1912 he pledged himself to "preserve the sacred rights of American citizens at home and abroad" but in August, 1913, he urged Americans to "leave Mexico immediately," notwithstanding they were there by rights protected by treaties as sacred as it is possible for nations to make. In 1912 Mr. Wilson loudly proclaimed his support of the spirit of the civil service law but in 1913 he disregarded that law in the face of protests from organized friends of the merit system in government service. It will be wise for the equal suffragists not to count Mr. Wilson's vote until after it is cast.

Joe Roach's Fee.

While it would not be so bad to be a member of the Champion Red Sox baseball team and get your "divie" of $3,779.98, it is possible to imagine there are better things even than that. For instance, there is Joe Roach who assisted Prosecutor Rucker in the election corruption conspiracy trial of Mayor Joseph E. Bell. Two attorneys for the defense swore that they believed Roach's work was worth $5,000 and Judge Eichhorn allowed him a fee of that sum. Joe says that he lost fifty pounds, but a fellow who weighed in at 248 when the trial began could afford to lose fifty pounds at one hundred per pound. Of course, we skinny folks might lower the limit because we could not spare fifty without using the $5,000 to buy a small plot of ground, but at the same time one would go as far as he could for one hundred per. Not meaning, of course, that Joe did not earn his fee.

Duty free goods still continue to make up the bulk of our importations. For the week ended September 25, 1915, importations entered at the 13 principal customs districts of the United States to the value of $32,238,127, on which duties were collected in the sum of $3,723,346, or an average ad valorem rate of duty of 11.5 per cent. Meanwhile the balance in the general fund of the Treasury continues to dwindle.

WHIG DEMORALIZATION

In the midst of the Whig success, "hard times came a knocking at the door." The vast scheme of internal improvements flattened out. Property value depreciated many fold. The state was on the brink of ruin and the hands at the helm seemed helpless. "The Whig party was guilty of flagrant misgovernment. Its punishment was not unmerited," says Esarey in his history of Indiana. At any rate its punishment came. It held to more or less dead issues while the Democrats, keeping pace with the public sentiment, reaped their reward. The Whigs lost power never to regain it.

A Simple Way To Remove Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

Come and let us show you why and how the FLORENCE burns the smoke and gases that enables you to get steady heat as if you used natural gas.

ONE PROVISION THAT IS UNIQUE

Judge Eichhorn Points Out One Defect in Old Constitution of the State.

JURY IN CRIMINAL CASES

Says it Shall Have the Right to Determine the Law and Fact—Favors a Change.

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Oct. 15.—Indiana's constitution has one provision that is unique among the states of the nation, according to Judge W. H. Eichhorn of Bluffton, the trial judge in the election-conspiracy case of Mayor Bell.

This provision, which no other state has, is that "in all criminal cases whatever the jury shall have the right to determine the law and the facts." In an article written for the Citizen under the title "Shall Right of Trial by Jury Remain Inviolable," Judge Eichhorn declares that "if there ever was a sound reason for such a provision, it has been lost sight of and forgotten."

Judge Eichhorn called attention to the fact that notwithstanding the provision noted above "the judge presiding in a criminal case is required to instruct the jury in writing and very many criminal cases reversed by supreme court on appeal are reversed for errors of law committed the trial court in giving instructions."

The Wells County jurist added that "the essential province of the jurors is to determine the facts and it is really a violation of 'trial by jury' to burden this 'fact' body with intricate issues of law."

Judge Eichhorn also favors three-fourths or even two-thirds verdict by the jury in civil cases rather than a unanimous verdict is now required. He reasons that it would be a saving in time and expense for the litigants and public by preventing disagreements and litigants would have "less fear that a verdict had failed because of bad influence or improper motives operating upon the jurors."

The Commercial Night School begins Monday evening at the Graham building at seven o'clock. Come and talk the matter over even if you have not decided to go to work the first evening.

BREAKS INTO THE BELL TRIAL TWICE

Similarity of Names Causes Nelson J. Hyde, Retired Farmer, to Get a Bit of Notoriety

MISTAKEN FOR NELSON HUGHES

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Oct. 15.—Whether the jury in the election conspiracy trial of Mayor Joseph E. Bell found the defendant innocent or guilty, one man, Nelson J. Hyde, a retired farmer, feels that though his name is among the indicted, it need not interrupt the routine of his life.

Hyde's name has been mentioned but twice in the trial—once when the prosecutor in his opening statement read his name among the others, and again when a witness said he did not know Mr. Hyde.

Only once has Mr. Hyde left perturbed. That was when the United Press by an unfortunate error, sent out his name among others as having pleaded guilty. A striking similarity in names probably caused the error. Nelson Hughes did plead guilty and the U. P. reporter's finger stopped at the wrong name in the list of 128.

LONG BRANCH IS THE PLACE

Washington, Oct. 15.—President Wilson today accepted New Jersey's invitation to make "Shadow Lawn," John A. McCall's place at Long Branch, N. J. his summer residence.

More than a score of Jerseyites called on the president.

The great estate was offered to the president at absolutely no expense whatever except that attendant upon the maintenance of his own household. The president, however, asked that he be allowed to pay the rent that he has been accustomed to pay for a summer home even though the New Jersey men gave it to some charity.

NEW YORK FASHION NOTES

By MARGARET MASON
(Written for United Press.)

At pictures of your granny
When she was young, my dear
You used to laugh and giggle
But look now in your mirror
And you will plainly see
You're dressed up just like granny
And mighty chic you be.

New York, Oct. 15.—This year's type of girl is the daguerrotype! Hoops, mits, bustles and pantalets, not a thing missing.

For two or three seasons now there has been a threat of pantalets in the offing but they have made very few appearance in the "oning" as 'twere. This year it really looks as if they were going to hang on to the lower limbs of some of our very best family trees, however.

They are really most attractive, these 1915 pantalets. Those for wear with street and daytime frocks are almost as wide and voluminous as divided skirts. To go with the smart fur-banded gowns now so popular the pantalets are also finished with a band of fur around the ankles and sometimes a ruching of the material is used below the fur.

Charming lace and net pantalets like those we saw occasionally last season are for wear with the fluffy dance frocks whose skirts are almost as short and bouffant as those of a belle of the ballet. A new note is struck in evening pantalets by a striking model of silk cut like the straight long pants of a Chinese belle and banded with gold or silver galloon as a finish.

Speaking of galloon, a novel use of this metallic banding is shown on a model evening frock worn in Marie Tempest's present play. It is a gown of Pompadour silk with a tight bodice and over the full, extremely full, and short, extremely short, skirt an even fuller overskirt of white tulle finished with a band of silver galloon around the hem caught here and there with tiny artificial nose gays. The stiff galloon acts delightfully in lieu of wire to give that desirable crinoline effect.

For yes indeed, though we aren't wearing the real old fashioned hoops yet we are getting the same results with less bulky and more sanitary contraptions, mostly wire.

While most of the wiring is done around the hem of the full short skirts, yet another effect is obtained by wiring out sideways over the hips. This builds you out sideways like Velasquez's celebrated portrait of the Spanish Infanta.

If you don't care for these side extensions, however, Fashion is most elastic this year and allows a rear extension with equal impunity.

It's the good old bustle again of course, brought up to date by being formed of rippling folds of skirt back breadths. This back draped bustle effect is much favored on formal evening gowns of heavy satin or velvet that are very décollete and long of train.

Quite the most reminiscent of dear old granny's youth is a model jacket suit of black and wool plaid. It has a short full skirt and little short full jacket which once reveals to startled modern eyes a little low necked waist of the plaid absolutely sleeveless save for tiny cap-like puffs of the plaid over each shoulder. With this sleeveless day-time gown are worn quaint kid gloves reaching midway of the forearm and laced up the side.

These side-laced gloves are quite the newest feature at hand and are worn with every sort of day time toilette. Black lace mits are also permitted with dressy afternoon frocks. Though the gloves are laced they aren't lace you understand whereas the mits are not laced but are lace.

The little top hats worn over one eye, the flowing window curtain veils, the little round muffs and rippling shoulder capes of fur, the extra high buttoned boots for day wear and the high ribbon laced cothurns for evening all, all are old stuff lifted from the heyday of our granddames youth.

Quite the only thing we seem to have overlooked in our wholesale copying is of course what would have profited us the most—meaning of course her lovely old-world tact and courtesy.

JUDGE SPARKS TO PRESIDE AT TRIAL

Is Selected to Hear Important Case at Richmond in Which $9,374 is Involved.

SEVERAL WERE CONSIDERED

Richmond, Indiana, October 15.—Judge Will M. Sparks, of Rushville, will preside at the Hasemeier-Bentlage trial in circuit court, which begins Monday morning. An agreement was reached by the Attorneys and Judge Fox upon the Rushville judge after Special Judge Comstock refused to preside.

It was at first thought necessary to venue the case from the local court because of the disagreement of the attorneys. Several other judges were considered before a final agreement was reached.

A brilliant array of legal talent has been retained to carry on the trial. Henry U. Johnson, Gustave Hoelscher and Gardner, Jessup and White are the attorneys for the H. C. Hasemeier company and Charles Shiveley, Ray Shiveley and John Robbins of Indianapolis, will defend the estate of Louisa Bentlage, which is sued for $9,374 and interest, for an alleged shortage in the accounts as reported by the late Louisa Bentlage, who committed suicide last year.

HUNTERS ARE GOOD PEACE ADVOCATES

They Are Going to Feel Effects of War Because of Heavy Demand
For Explosives in Europe.

QUAIL SEASON COMING ON

As a peace advocate the average hunter nowadays ought to win the gold medal. He would be in the foremost ranks of those suing for peace, if such a thing were under way, because the war is hitting his purse hard. He has to pay much more for his ammunition this year because the European conflicts has made the demand for explosives so great that the price has advanced rapidly. The effect of the war on the price was not felt last season because the European supply of ammunition had not been materially decreased by that time.

The quail season will open the tenth of December. Some local sportsmen are aware of the fact that they will have to pay an increased price for shells. The dealer does not get the benefit of the increase. His margin is just the same and he is hit just as hard as the consumer.

Lakeport, N. H.—"Our little girl 8 years of age was in a debilitated, rundown condition and had a stubborn cough so she was weak and ailing all the time. Nothing helped her until we tried Vinol. Then her appetite increased and she is strong and well, and I wish other parents of weak, delicate children would try Vinol."—Geo. A. Collins.

This is because Vinol contains the tissue building, strengthening cod liver elements and the tonic iron which a weak and run-down system needs.

WHEAT CROPS LOSING PRESTIGE

Close Observers Say Farmers Are

Not Planting so Much as Formerly Because of Risk.

THIS YEAR DISCOURAGING

When What Promised to be "Bum-

per" Crop Turns Out so Badly,

Growers Naturally Lose Hope.

Is wheat growing coming to be a "lost art" so far as the farmers of Rush county are concerned?

Persons who have had an occasion to go out through the county within the last few days deny that it is. But they add that the crop has suffered greatly in the prestige in which it is held by the farmers of the country and that the crop of next year—irrespective of the weather—will be one of the smallest in the history of the county.

At the door of wet weather which caused the crop this year to be cut down from what was expected to be a "bumper" to one which was only 50 per cent of the normal can be laid the death of the wheat prestige, say the investigators.

"Farmers are not planting as much wheat this fall as they did last year or in the years previous," said one of this number. "So far as market conditions are concerned it would seem that the contrary would be the case. For the wheat is now selling at right around $1 and the prospects for its going higher with the continuance of the war and the continued locking up of the Dardanelles are very bright.

"But the farmers have been discouraged by the failures, in the last few years, have been more than plentiful. They do not care to risk their time, money and land and efforts on a crop which may prove a failure in growth and which, even though successful in this particular, is likely to bring them only a small share of the returns which another line of agriculture would net them."

Most of the wheat already is in the ground. Farmers are wishing for cooler weather just now.

ly damage the corn crop, say the farmers.

Silos all over the country now have been filled with the largest amount of silage which Rush county has ever stored away for winter stock feeding.

Pick Ticket For Election Nov. 2.

The Republicans of Knightstown will hold a primary Saturday to select candidates for the town election
Tuesday, November 2. The primary was hastily arranged because the attorney general just decided a few days ago that incorporated town elections would be conducted under the 1909 act due to a mistake in the amendment passed this year. A marshal, clerk, treasurer and four councilmen are to be elected. Five seek the marshal's place on the Republican ticket.

INSTANCE OF PREVISION.

London, Sept. 15. (By Mail.)
A remarkable instance of prevision relating to the war was cited here today with an extract from a letter written by the famous General Gordon, to a friend, in 1882. He wrote:
"Every Briton should think of the future and each one should insist on the government passing a measure for compulsory universal military training! So far as England is concerned, she need not, for the next quarter of a century, be under any apprehension of serious difficulties arising with any of her European neighbors, but in 1910 or thereabouts there will have arisen a naval power which may prove mightier than she,
and should she (Germany)
gain the supremacy, England will become extinct both as a land and sea power, and all her dependencies, including India, will fall into Germany's clutches. You may live to see this.
I shall not, but when that time comes, remember my words."

CROOKS DRIVEN FROM EUROPE

New York Has Been Made The Biggest International Crook Center in The World

WAR GIVEN AS THE CAUSE

Police Now Teaching Public How to Guard Against Burglars—Many Robberies Reported

(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)
New York, Oct. 15.—The war has made New York the biggest "international crook center" in the world, authorities declare. Every city in the country likewise has its increased quota of crooks of all kinds driven from Europe.

It seems to be the women who are suffering most from the straight burglaries. To date this year the toll of the Snout-And-Jowl and Crafty-Debonair brigades in Gotham alone totals nearly half a million dollars in gems and cash. Practically all the big robberies have been from wealthy women's homes.

While Mrs. Elizabeth Nichols sat in the drawing room of her Brooklyn residence, a thief entered, frightened Mrs. Nichols so she died, then walked out with $16,000 worth of jewelry.

Inspector Joseph A. Faurot, Chief of the New York Detective bureau, has issued a lengthy warning to the women of the country on how to protect their homes from burglars, hundreds of whom have come from Europe with their more subtle brothers and sisters who travel first cabin. Above is a brief of Faurot's advice.

There are three months left for the crooks to make a 1915 international record here and they promise to do it.

Driven from their lucrative and accustomed haunts at Monte Carlo, London, Paris, Berlin and like famed continental resorts, the crooks have swooped down and settled upon New York as the locust plague once swept the Kansas prairies.

They're a clever crew, for the most part; barring the international strong-arm and second-story worker, who is just a prosperous low-brow. It's the educated, crafty shrewd men and women crooks—white-collared scoundrels who are driving the New York detectives plumb distracted.

Since January, fifteen "big jobs," of $3000 or over, have been successfully put over by what is believed to be an organized band of clever criminals aided, maybe, by servants in wealthy households.

Proceeds from the fifteen hauls total nearly $350,000 and there have been hundreds of robberies ranging from $100 to $2,500.

Some of the heaviest losers are Mrs. Sherwood Aldrich, whose summer house at Southampton, L. I., was robbed of $70,000 in gems. Mrs. James McMillan, whose summer place at Manchester-by-the-Sea was robbed of jewels valued at $75,000; Mrs. E. Clifton Potter, from whose summer place at East Hampton, L. I., thieves obtained $50,000 in gems; Mrs. Barbara Wright, Brooklyn, $25,000.

Rewards totaling almost $50,000 are still in force on some of the larger robberies.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints, and Olive Tablets are the immense effective result.

THE AMERICAN TOBACCO COMPANY

IF ENGLISH SUPPLY OF TOBACCO HOLDS OUT, NO DOUBT ABOUT ALLIES WINNING

This is Tommy Atkins' View, Holding That Pipe Which Will Stand by in Emergency is Necessary.

SOME EXAMPLES ARE CITED

BY WILBUR S. FORREST.
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

London, Sept. 22. (By Mail)—If the English supply of tobacco and pipes only holds out, there can be no question as to the final favorable outcome for the Allies. This, at least, is Tommy Atkins' opinion.

Tommy admits that recently the ministers have made quite a fuss about munitions, but insists that even with munitions it still requires men to win the war. He puts it this way:

"It takes heroes to win a battle and the thing most necessary to make Tommy a hero is a faithful pipe that will stand by him in any emergency."

Recently he has cited concrete examples to prove this thesis and persuade the British public to contribute more liberally towards the tobacco pouch in France and the Dardanelles.

There was Lieutenant W. Forshaw, who won the Victoria Cross at Gallipoli. Threw bombs continuously for forty-four hours, using his pipe and cigarettes for lighting fuses. Tommy insists he could have used his cigarette lighter just as effectively, but that without smoking he could not have withstood the strain.

There was E. Berry, sapper of the First London Field company. He found a parapet too high for his machine gun. So he lighted his pipe, climbed the parapet, and pulling the gun up after him continued in action. He got the Distinguished Conduct Medal for it. But Tommy insist that the encouragement of his pipe did it.

Only a soldier at the front, Tommy, insists, knows the real value of a smoke. To illustrate, he declares there was a Tommy who during the retreat from Mons M. it was lucky enough to find a horse. He kept astride for a whole day, making fair progress. Then he traded the nag to an artilleryman for a package of cigarettes. Just as he knew would be the case, the Tommy was able, with a cigarette in his mouth, to make faster progress afoot than astride.

Even civilian life has been drawn upon by Tommy to move the British public to contributions. Following the fall of Liege last year, he asserts that an aged man with two grandchildren limped into Ostend after a tramp of over 100 miles. He had no money and only what food was given him by charitable people along the way.

"But I had one thing," he told the Tommies at Ostend, "that sustained me wonderfully, my pipe and plenty of tobacco. I don't believe I should have been able to reach Ostend alive if I had not been able to light up when I wanted to."

What worries Tommy, in his present agitation to secure tobacco contributions, is the French. He insists the French tobacco is vile. Yet he has to admit that the French "poilus" fight just as bravely as he does. His only explanation is that possibly the French soldier has some other sources of inspiration besides his pipe. In which event, he argues, the British should contribute all the more liberally, first that he may not be forced to have recourse to French tobacco, and secondly that he may not be rendered any less brave than the French.

MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take a glass of Salts if your Back hurts or Bladder bothers—Meat forms uric acid.

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.

IF YOU'RE FAIR AND SQUARE THE WORLD WILL SHARE WITH YOU ITS BLESSINGS RARE!

The blessing of a well stocked pantry shelf purchased at honest prices and delivered on time is appreciated by the housewife. We have built a business in this town of which we are justly proud. Experiment a grocery order—see what we mean.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever, nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

ONE CENT A MEAL FOR 1 YEAR

In almost every home there are practically one thousand meals a year prepared on the stove. Many people hesitate about paying five or ten dollars more to secure a reliable range—one that will cook these thousands meals a year with the least trouble and at the lowest cost. If you should add just one cent to the cost of every meal for the first year only, you would soon make up the difference between the cheap range and the range that will last a lifetime.

Suppose your cheap range uses one cent's more of fuel in cooking each meal, or only three cents' worth more a day. In one year this range has cost you ten dollars extra—ten dollars more for fuel than the better range. Every year means that much more money burned up.

Suppose the better range does cost ten dollars more at first than the cheap one. The extra cost is nothing — it amounts to only one cent a meal. It will save that one cent a meal in fuel alone. In one year it will save the extra cost and in ten years it will save you one hundred dollars not counting what you save missing big repair bills.

You can open a bank account in your kitchen by buying a SOUTH BEND MALLEABLE RANGE.

An expert demonstrator from the factory will be at our store for one week. He will tell you about the Patented Aluminum-Fused Copper-Bearing Flues. And prove to you why it is the best range made.

ICE-BOX THIEVES ARE BACK

Renewed Activity in Northern Part of the City is Reported.

Renewed activity on the part of the refrigerator thieves has been reported. It is said that the robbers have grown so bold that they will enter the rear of homes when the family is there and help themselves to things to eat. A choice lot of eatables had been prepared for the evening meal one day recently, according to report, and left in the refrigerator but when the woman of the house went to prepare supper, she found it had all been stolen. On another occasion thieves took grape fruit and threw all of it they could not eat on the front porch.

Storm Buggies that Will Keep You Warm, Look Nice and Wear Well. That's the Kind.

Everybody wants a nice storm buggy and I have one for everybody. Some of my competitors are going to quit selling buggies, or at least they advertise they are, and I am going to take their word for it, and just between ourselves, I have been looking for it for sometime, and I have reason for looking for it. Every year I sell more buggies than I did the year before and there is not much room left for competition. You naturally ask the question "How do you increase your buggy business all the time?" and the answer is that I give more value for the money than anyone else, treat everybody alike and treat them right. I can prove I give more value for the money than my competitors as I am handling a storm buggy this winter, formerly sold by one of my competitors, and I am selling it for $10.00 less than it ever sold for before, remember the same buggy for $10.00 less. Maybe you bought one last year and paid the extra $10.00. If you did, remember when you need a buggy look around. It has saved lots of vehicle buyers money to buy them of me, and I want you for a customer. The only way you can sell things right, is to buy them right, and not throwing any bouquets at myself, I sure buy right and I want to give you the advantage of good buying. Good buying, and a large volume of business make it possible for me to sell you a buggy from $10.00 to $15.00 cheaper than any one else. It is a simple proposition to figure out how it is done, and when you get ready to buy a buggy, buy where the majority buy, and save.

A STUDY IN INDIANA HISTORY

The following is the second and last installment of a paper entitled "A Study of Indiana History" which Miss Genevieve Brown, history instructor in the high school, read before the city teachers' institute last Saturday:

We were weakened in the fight, but not by the usual method of wreaking life and rattling drum. Officers went to the low tents of the men and, stooping down, called in subdued tones. All fires or lights were prohibited and orders were stringent against noises of any kind. Packing up quickly the column moved stealthily in the murky darkness. No conversation, except in whispers, being permitted, there was nothing to do, but each to follow his file leader and meditate up on the situation. Daylight found the regiment of the 3d Brigade massed close together and resting not far from the buildings of Mr. Melekoft * * *

Some one hundred miles east of the Hagerstown pike. The first corps, under Hooker men occupies the front line. Our own little corps, in reserve. In the first gray dawn the pickets open fire. Muskets never seem to crack so loudly and wickedly as on the picket line when a great battle is expected. A few shots then send the blood whirling to the finger tips of the whole army. Bang, bang, bang! The musketry increases rapidly, and almost immediately—boom! boom! The cannon join in to increase the uproar. These are the signal guns announcing a day of fate. In a short time the battle has assumed large proportions.

When the firing begins, the regiment of our brigade fall into ranks and the 27th marches forward of Mr. Nulikoff's log barn, only a few rods. The regiment is then thrown into columns of division, close order, arms are stocked and the command given, "Rest at will." We are now ready for any order that may come.

While we wait, many of the men pour water out of their canteens into the little pails and make themselves a cup of coffee, over the small fire we have been permitted to kindle since daylight. With this black coffee and the crackers and raw pork from their haversacks, they eat a soldiers' luncheon. It seems certain that we must very soon join in a great battle. Few if any, forget that this may be the last food they will taste in this world, or the cost, as well men. In fact, few that reason some of the more excitable ones cannot eat a mouthful. Others, not over burdened with sentiment banteringly allege that they intend to eat all the more on that account. Yet, in one way or another, it is clearly revealed that the situation has awakened grave apprehensions with all. Many arrangements are made, quietly yet openly, which has reference to a possible dire contingency. Valuables and keepsakes are handed to members of the ambulance corps and others whose duties do not require them to be greatly exposed. Directions are given and requests are made, concerning business methods at home, the care of those dear and dependent, messages to friends in some instances, concerning the final disposition of ones own mortal remains.

Our position is a little to one side of the right of the enemy's artillery. We can see dozens and scores of shells as they sail harmlessly by describing graceful curves. Under other circumstances we might enjoy the display. Numerous round shot, aimed lower, also go bounding along, plowing furrows in the ground and crashing through whatever they come in contact with.

The wounded are coming back in large numbers. Many though badly hurt are able to walk alone, many others are assisted to walk and some are carried or hauled. Most of those passing near have something to say. Every word is one of encouragement and cheer. These heroes men are torn and bleeding, some of them are dying, but none of them our whipped or demoralized.

Upon the high ground to our right we have panicked "Skedaddles" runs by. Judge of the character of the troops in our front when the fact is stated, and it is a fact, that his was the only able-bodied soldier seen running out of the fight! This one is in a cornfield and runs zig zag among the corn, dodging frantically from one hill across to another in the opposite row, as if trying to escape from a swarm of bees. At the sound of a passing shell he throws himself upon the ground and remains motionless, with his nose rooted in the soil. This is the more ludicrous to us because we can see no shells, and can see plainly though besides having passed him before he fell down, it had missed him by a wide margin. Eventually, he jumps to his feet and runs as before. While the boys laugh, they also gey him unmercifully, heaping upon him epithets far more true than complimentary. But nothing stops him.

Meanwhile the battle is raging. The roar of cannon is incessant and the discharge of musketry is far more than a continuous rattle. There is a succession of great waves of sound, one following another, as if brigades or divisions are firing in rapid, well-timed volleys. Intermingled with the artillery, musketry and cheers of the combatants, and other sounds not distinguishable. It is a cannonading and confusion of noise, as it rolls over the hills like a deluge.

The progress of a devastating cyclone, with it lashing and snapping of trees, its creaking and grating of buildings rent asunder and toppling over; its screaming and shrieking of men and animals in mortal terror and agony and a thousand other ear-splitting, blood-curdling sounds, all added to the rush and roar of the wind, the darkening of the clouds, the blinding of the dust and the rumble and peal of thunder is the only other human experience that the writer would venture to compare with a battle, such as we were waiting to enter that morning." (The writer of this was a boy not yet 18). The following extract from the same book follows the battle of Chancellorsville the next spring.

"The first night and first few days after returning to our quarters near Stafford court house, the harsh relentless side of war come home to us closer, perhaps than at any other time during our service. When we turned into our company streets that night after returning from Chancellorsville and set about readjusting ourselves to former conditions, it required resolute will power to sustain us. The bare facts were so pitiless! Some whole messes were entirely wiped out; not a man was left to claim the deserted hut. In others one or perhaps two remained. In all there were shocking vacancies. Some companies had no commissioned officers, others had but one and one had more than two. Those who had endeared themselves by long and capable service and many acts of thoughtful kindness, were gone. A roll of thirteen non commissioned officers were reduced in most cases, to four or five. A company, at roll call, looked like an ordinary detail for guard. And those forever lost to us, known to be dead, left unburied in the hands of the enemy, henceforth to fill nameless graves, and for no good purpose, in many instances were the noblest, truest, worthiest of us all. It is a wonder that is almost broke our heart?

A loss sadly noticed at the time, and which never ceased to be felt, was the breaking up of the glee club of company C. This squad of singers has been mentioned heretofore. They come into more and more prominence, relatively as our service lengthened. They used to sing, "Old Kentucky Home," and other sentimental songs as well, as the standard patriotic songs of the time in a delightful way. Many pleasant hours had been passed in camp listening to their sweet singing while the weariness of many a toilsome march had been relieved or forgotten, under the spell of some ringing song.

At times when strength seemed about to fail and the spirits of the men were at a low ebb, the colonel or someone else, would call for a song, "Where are you boys, could you give us a song?" At this, the soprano whose voice was really feminine in its intonation, would start "John Brown" or Rally around The Flag, Boys". Others would take up the strain and all who could sing would join in the chorus until from one end of the column to the other, would resound a tremendous volume of melody. And it never failed to help. Feet did not feel quite so sore; limbs quite so weary; knapsacks and guns did not seem quite so heavy, nor distances quite so long. But all this was over after the battle of Chancellorsville. The soprano, a glorious, good soldier, as well as one of the brightest most companionable boys that ever lived, was shot in the body and died in a few hours. Two others of the glee club were so badly wounded that it practically ended their services with the 27th. The boys were sorely missed.—O for a sign of a vanished head, And a voice that is forever still!

There are hundreds of special topics that might be considered in detail in this third political period of our state history. The underground R. R., Indiana's war governor." The life as comp Norton. The women at home during the war; the life of any of Indiana's regiment; Indiana's record in the war; has been suggested as topics of especial interest.

The fourth and last period is the epoch since the close of the Civil war. Think what a field of research that period opens up. The depths of our school system in the past fifty years; A companion of the factory life in Indiana and in Rush Co., at the close of the civil war, with conditions as they prevail today. The changes in agricultural life and at the attitude assumed toward agricultural life in our day from that of a half century past. Indiana's record in the Spanish-American war—and so on.

The whole thing in a nut shell teaches as I see it is this we are living in a peculiarly and particularly critical period in our national and state life. The Canaanian world is involved in a gigantic work which many people think well eventually involve us; we are riding at the crest of the wave of political and social unrest. Is it not exactly the right time for us here in Indiana to stop ourselves on the eve of our hundredth birthday to take an inventory of our strength and make a true estimate of ourselves. But can we estimate ourselves unless we know something about ourselves; are we living up to the fine high standards and ideals that our forefathers here in this state have established for us? Is saluting the flag and singing "Hail Indiana" the real way to create patriotism and loyalty and devotion to country in this new generation. Let us rather teachers make a consistent, energetic, interesting study of Indiana's political history, its work in art, in literature, in music, in science, in general human welfare, and then thoroughly aroused by our own knowledge and enthusiasms let us pass it on through general classroom work, special programs. Perhaps even a special day of talks, songs and the like, to those to whom we have pledged ourselves to give our best. Remembering that nothing seems valuable that we know nothing of that we cannot expect loyalty and enthusiasm for this centennial celebration from our pupils, unless both we and they know why and what we are actually celebrating.

OLD AND NEW WAY TO TREAT CATARRH

Breathing a Germ Killing Air Endorsed by Actual Results.

The discovery of Hyomei has wrought a wonderful change in the treatment of catarrh.

Prior to three years ago the medicine ordinarily employed in the cure of this disease were drugs, sprays, lotions, etc. In some instances they benefited, but the improvement was not lasting.

With Hyomei you take into the air passages of your throat and head a balsamic air that goes into the minutest cells, and should effectually kill all germs and microbes of catarrh. Its purpose is to enter the blood with the oxygen, killing the germs in the blood, and restore health to the whole system. Many astonishing testimonials have been received from those who have been helped by Hyomei.

A complete outfit is inexpensive and includes an inhaler, dropper and sufficient Hyomei for several weeks' treatment.

Perhaps the strongest evidence that can be given to doubters, is the fact that Johnsons' Drug Store have so much faith in Hyomei that they sell every package under a positive guarantee to refund the money if it does not relieve.

FARMERS RACE WITH JACK FROST

Select Seed Corn Today in Keeping With Warning Sent Out by Purdue University

PROCLAMATION BY GOVERNOR

Crop Has Matured Slowly And For This Reason Better to Select it in Field

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Oct. 14.—Indiana farmers today engaged in a race with Jack Frost to see which would get to the seed corn that is to father next year's crop.

Warned by Purdue University and again by Governor Ralston that unless speedy work is done the frost will nip the seed corn, country agents today did their best to round up farmers for the "seed corn bee." This was Seed Corn Day by proclamation of the governor.

Owing to the unusual cold weather, the corn crop has matured slowly said a bulletin issued at Purdue. "Much of the corn is still green. If the farmers are to secure seed corn strong in vitality, it is necessary, that they select from the field before the time of heavy frosts. Experiments conducted at the Purdue experiment station show that corn selected at the time of the general harvest in November germinated only 80 percent."

The Indiana Corn Grower's association in a recent letter to the governor said that the 1916 Indiana corn crop can be increased by 25,000,000 bushels if the seed is selected this fall before the heavy frosts and is properly saved during the winter.

Amusements

The management of the Shubert Murat Theater, Indianapolis, has the honor to announce that Walker Whiteside, the famous star who numbers his followers by thousands, through his performances in "The Melting Pot," and "The Typhoon," will appear in his latest triumph, "The Ragged Messenger" next week beginning Monday, Oct. 18.

"The Ragged Messenger," has been playing in the Princess Theatre, Chicago, where it has created a wave of excitement that is remarkable for a theatrical production. Mr. Whiteside will bring the entire lavish production and distinguished company here, the same company which, during the Christmas holidays, will present the play in the Cort Theater, New York, where "Peg O' My Heart" had its record breaking run.

Mr. Whiteside appears in the part of John Morton, a militant clergyman, who has left the church in order to get closer to the masses in the slums of London. While he is delivering from street corners the message which inspires him, he is accosted by a girl who appeals to him to help. When some of his aristocratic friends refuse to help the girl, he marries her. Then he falls heir to millions, left him by a remote relative. His wife grows ambitious, but is thwarted in her dreams of luxury by Morton who is resolved to give all the money to the poor. How she dishonors herself to be revenged on him, makes the play's breathlessly exciting climax.

This play is fascinating in its contrasting scenes between the luxury of the drawing rooms of London's smart set, and the crowded streets in the slums of the White chapel district. "It is furiously dramatic," said Ary Leslie in the Chicago News and gave Mr. Whiteside the last word of praise, saying "he handles the big scenes with force and splendor."

Seats are now on sale here and may be obtained from the local agent of the Murat Theater.

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

New York, Oct. 15.—The schedule makers for 1915 were kind to the dopesters. Through a kindly kink in the 1915 playing chart, it will be possible tomorrow night to form an idea of how Yale and Harvard compare for their annual gridiron tussle.

The big Crimson eleven gets the acid test when it lines up against the University of Virginia team, which two weeks ago sprung the surprise of the present season by defeating Yale on her own field, 10 to 0. By the comparative score route, the football world should have some food for thought after tomorrow's battle at Cambridge. It isn't often that a chance to get a line on the big fellows comes so early in the season.

About all that can be said about the game is that Percy Haughton has a battle on his hands that is many degrees removed from a tea party. In Thurman, Virginia probably has as good a kicker as there is in the game this year, and he defeated Yale practically single-handed. Virginia's victory wasn't a fluke—it was earned, a fact of which Haughton is probably fully aware. That he will throw his full strength into the breach goes without saying.

Virginia has a lot to fight for. Victories over Yale and Harvard—the peers of the collegiate kingdom, in a single year would raise the southern school to an enviable position in the athletic world.

Yale meets Springfield tomorrow. The Massachusetts institution generally has a team of huskies, but the Blue should win in rather easy style. Since the Virginia defeat, Frank Hinkey, has given the Eli eleven one of the biggest shaking-up in Yale's football history, and the result of the jostling will be watched with much concern by Yale partisans.

Princeton should run up an overwhelming score against Lafayette. The Pennsylvania boys aren't so strong this year as in other years, and should be meat for the Tigers.

There is a strong suspicion that the Navy is in for a drubbing at the hands of Pennsylvania tomorrow. The Middies were showed up in rather bad light by Georgetown a few weeks ago.

Cornell, Dartmouth and the Army should have comparatively easy games with Bucknell, Vermont and Colgate, respectively.

In the West, three conference games are on docket, which alone are enough to insure a day of classic football entertainment.

Chicago undoubtedly will administer her annual drubbing to Indiana. It isn't an event for Chicago to lick Indiana any more—it's a habit, and there is no reason to expect any upset this year. Indiana has changed her style of play in the last two years with the coming of Clarence Childs, a Yale man, but from press dispatches she doesn't compare favorably with Stagg's aggregation.

The Wisconsin-Purdue game should be a pretty battle, and the Badgers should win. Purdue has been held to a 7-7 tie with little Wabash this season, which doesn't give her much prestige in conference ranks. Coach Bill Juneau's big team, captained by Howard Buck, as good a football man as will be found in the country, rolled up an avalanche of 87 points against Lawrence a few Saturdays ago, showing at least that the Badgers have a rather formidable scoring machine.

Minnesota, favored in some quarters to capture the Big Nine title renege on her conference sisters and tuckles South Dakota.

Coach Hawley's Iowa team plays Northwestern, Michigan meets Case, Missouri takes on Oklahoma and Nebraska lines up against Washburn—rounding out an attractive schedule for mid-October.

THE MAUZY COMPANY

offers Suits and Coats for women and misses at prices that will bear the scrutiny of comparison.

There seems to be a tradition throughout the suit and coat business in larger cities that in order to interest any woman in a garment, she must be told that it is worth much more than the price she is asked to pay for it.

Mauzy's suits and coats are different. No visionary or imaginary values are placed upon them. But at the same time great care is taken to see that they are worth all you pay for them, no matter what you pay nor how you make comparisons.

Primarily the style of a garment is of supreme importance to the woman who wears it. Original creations command tremendous prices because of their exclusiveness. Mauzy's styles are copies and adaptations of original styles that obtain their vogue in Paris and New York.

Mauzy's Wooltex suits and coats are all sold with a positive and irrevocable guarantee that every garment is guaranteed for two season's satisfactory wear and that they are all wool. This does not mean the so-called "commercial all-wool" but does mean strictly all-wool.

At the present time our stock is comprehensive, embracing a splendid line of colors, fabrics and models.

STUMBLE ON TO YOUNG ROBBERS

While Searching For Muncie Murderer, Friendly Auto Light Reveals Hiding Boys to Police.

ONE OF THEM ESCAPES

Bert Newman Arrested and Later Develops Youths Entered Dr. W. C. Smith's Garage.

For once luck favored the police department and through the biggest kind of an accident the robbery of Dr. Will C. Smith's garage was laid directly to Bert Newman and Warmie Craig. Newman is held in jail and the Craig boy is still at large. The Newman boy confessed to Dr. Smith this morning.

The garage was broken into last night and a pair of gloves, a flash light and an overcoat taken. Early this morning while the Muncie police were here looking for a murderer believed to be in this city, the two boys were found hiding along a string of box cars near the C. H. & D. depot.

The Muncie police and Ray Lakin were at the C. H. & D. depot inquiring of the agent if he had seen two strange colored men. While they were standing on the station platform a passing automobile threw a light down the track and the two boys were seen. Thinking that they might possibly be the two men they were hunting the police rounded them up and succeeded in capturing Newman. The Craig boy ran north in Sexton street and even after two or three shots were fired at him he continued to run and has not yet been located.

A revolver was found on the Newman boy along with the overcoats, gloves and flash light. At this time the police did not know that the Smith garage had been entered and simply arrested the Newman boy for carrying concealed weapons and intended to let him explain why he was sneaking around at the hour of four o'clock this morning.

In the meantime Dr. Smith reported the robbery to the police, telling them that one of the parties that entered the garage did not have a heel on one of his shoes as was shown in the tracks left in the mud. Dr. Smith visited the jail and the Newman boy told him the entire story. Dr. Smith identified his property. One of the keys to the garage was taken and Newman told Dr. Smith that the Craig boy had the key. Newman wore a pair of shoes with one heel worn down.

No affidavits have been issued as yet because Prosecutor Stevens has busy all day in the circuit court. He intends to take the matter up tonight. A visit to the Craig boy's home showed that he had not been home last night and his mother suspected that he was in trouble. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Craig. Newman is a son of John Newman. The boys are said to be about seventeen years old.

DORAK GRANTED NEW TRIAL

Man Sentenced to Die in Electric Chair Gets Another Chance.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 15.—Tom Dorak, who was sentenced to die July 9 in the electric chair at Michigan City for killing George Wise and who later was reprieved to October 31, was granted a new trial today by the supreme court. It ruled that Judge Collins placed an undue burden upon the defendant in his instructions to the jury.

MRS. ROSENCRANCE CAUGHT AT VEVAY

WAS MISSING ONLY ONE DAY

Mrs. John Rosencrance, who escaped from the Madison asylum, Wednesday night was captured yesterday afternoon in Vevay, Ind., and returned to the asylum. She took a boat from Madison to Vevay. In the time that she was gone it is thought rather strange here that she got no further than Vevay. Vevay is in the adjoining county from Madison, being not over twenty-five or thirty miles.

The inmates of the asylum often earn money by doing fancy work for people outside and it is believed here that Mrs. Rosencrance secured her money to make the trip in that manner. Chief Rosencrance was greatly relieved last night when he heard that she had been found as he feared that she might have done herself bodily harm.

BURNS FOUR TIMES IN FIFTEEN YEARS

J. D. Case Saw Mill at Milroy is Destroyed by Fire Thursday at Loss of $2,500.

NOT MUCH LUMBER THERE

For the fourth time in about fifteen years the saw mill at Milroy was destroyed by re at an early hour Thursday. The mill was the property of J. D. Case of this city. The origin is unknown. The machinery in the mill was practically new and the equipment was valued at about $2,500. It is understood that Mr. Case carried no insurance on the building.

A small supply of lumber in the yard adjoining the mill cut down the loss as it so happened that there was not a very large supply on hand. When discovered the blaze had a good start and the volunteer fire fighters extended their efforts towards saving the surrounding property. E. A. Richey managed the mill for Mr. Case. The mill burned about three years ago.

CHIROPRACTOR ON TRIAL HERE

William Monks is Charged With Practicing Medicine Without License by State Board.

TESTIMONY HEARD TODAY

Defendant's Patients Swear They Were Benefited.—Hearing of Statewide Importance.

One of the three cases against Wm. H. Monks, charged in an affidavit filed in circuit court by William Gott, of Crawfordsville, secretary of the state board of medical examiners, with practicing medicine without a license, started this morning in the circuit court.

The one being tried charges a specific offense, naming May 5 as the date the offense was committed. The charges is similar to others filed in different parts of the state against the chiropractors and the case here assumed state-wide importance, because of the prominence of the defendant and the importance of the case to the men interested in practicing chiropractic.

Because of this there were chiropractors present from Cambridge City, Franklin, Shelbyville and Indianapolis. In addition to this Ed Fitzpatrick, attorney for the state chiropractors association, assisted John A. Tittsworth in the defense of Mr. Monks. The chiropractors have been demanding recognition from the state and want a representative on the state board. Because of this they took an intense interest in the case here today, because a verdict for Monks would tend to help their cause.

The jury was secured without little difficulty. Prosecutor Stevens is being assisted by Donald Smith. Practically all the witnesses of the state were people who had been treated by Mr. Monks. The form of treatment was described to the jury and in almost every instance it was brought out that they were improved by the treatment.

On cross-examination, the defense brought out that Mr. Monks used no medicine in his practice and prescribed no medicine. Instead of treatment the patient is given "adjustments", using the words of the chiropractors, as the treatment consists of an adjustment of the spine. The publishers of local newspapers were placed on the stand to show that Mr. Monks had widely advertised his practice. Among the witnesses testifying for the state were D. L. Aldridge, Isom Stevens and Ethel Harrell.

The defense brought out that all of the persons who had received treatment from Monks and were testifying for the state were friendly to him and in no way were assisting the prosecution. The offense under the state law of practicing medicine without a license is punishable with a fine of not less than $25 and not more than $200.

The jury is as follows: George Lawson, W. A. Cameron, Ed B. Lowden, John T. Seall, William D. Kirkpatrick, Noah Moore, Conrad Kiser, Thomas A. Jones, W. B. Morris, O. A. J. Hall, W. R. Taylor, E. B. Morris.

Judge Judge Sparks has sent the case of the City of Rushville against the Peoples Natural Gas company to Henry county on a change of venue. The case is an injunction suit and the change was asked by the defendant company.

The Ladies of the First Baptist church will hold an exchange Saturday, October 23d at the Davis Millinery Store.

LOOK FOR MUNCIE MURDERER HERE

Police Come Here on Tip From Traveling Man That Charles Taylor Was Seen Here.

"GRAPE-VINE" IS DEVELOPED

If Negro Was Ever Here he Managed to Escape Police Officers of Three Cities Who Searched

A tip from a traveling man that Charles Taylor, colored, wanted in Muncie for the murder of Mrs. Lizzie Boyd, William Wood and Mrs. Alice Woolbridge, all colored, got off a car in this city last night coming from Connersville proved to be a "grape-vine." If the suspected man was Taylor, he succeeded in getting away.

The triple murder was committed about three weeks ago and the Muncie police have run down every available clew but to no avail. So certain was this traveling man that he had Taylor spotted that he insisted on notifying the Muncie police. This was done and four police officers from Muncie arrived here shortly after three o'clock this morning and started a search of the railroad yards in the hope of landing Taylor.

With the local police and Night-watchman Ray Lakin they searched until long after daylight this morning and gave it up. The Muncie police stated that they doubted that the man was Taylor and believed that the traveling man had the wrong "dope."

According to the traveling man, the colored man that he suspected as being Taylor was accompanied by another negro and they got off the car at the car barns at Julian street. Their movements were traced from the time they left the car until they appeared at a local meat market and purchased some meat.

The conductors of all traction cars were asked if any colored men had boarded a car leaving the station here and it was determined that the two did not leave the city by traction. The Connersville police were also asked to look for the two men and in co-operation with the local police and the Muncie department a complete search was made, but no trace of the two men was found. It was thought that perhaps they caught a Big Four train south from the city and Greensburg and Louisville were notified to watch for the two strange colored men. The Muncie men returned home this morning.

NEW ENTRY DOCKET IN USE

Form of Record is Recommended by State Board of Accounts.

A new entry docket has been put in use in the clerk of the circuit court's office. The book differs from the old form in that it is a fee docket combined. The form is recommended by the state board of accounts. In the new book only one case can be devoted to a page, where under the old system any number could be placed on a single page. The new book will mean less work for the clerk as the costs are taxed in one book. The first case on the new book is number 680 and was filed by Albert L. Winship against Harry Colter. The suit is on a note demanding $150.

The First Presbyterian church choir will hold an exchange Saturday, October 23d at the Davis Millinery Store.

It is planned that every government ship yard shall be a manufacturing plant, as well as a repair shop. Large amounts will be spent to equip them.

The naval research laboratory, will be built, if congress agrees, but the appropriation asked will be less than the $5,000,000 which has heretofore been suggested.

MYSTERY OF RICH MAN'S DEATH CLEARS

Charles Hagen Admits he Traded Whiskey to John Bond Who Was Later Found Dead.

LIVED NEAR NOBLESVILLE

(By United Press.) Noblesville, Ind., Oct. 15.—The mystery of the death today of John Bond, wealthy farmer was cleared soon after to the satisfaction of county authorities. Charles Hagen, neighbor of Bond, who was arrested and brought here, admitted that while returning from Indianapolis with bottles of liquor, he stopped and drank with Bond. Then he traded Bond whiskey for chickens, he said. Doctors said Bond died of alcoholism. Money received by him in a recent sale is in a local bank. The only charge on which Hagen can be held is "bootlegging."

One report first widely circulated was that he had died of wood alcohol poisoning and had been robbed.

Mrs. Bond returned home last night and found Bond unconscious in the yard. It was first believed he died of apoplexy. The robbery report was believed to have resulted from confusion over robbery of a jewelry store here last night of several hundred dollars.

A baby girl was born to the wife of Mrs. Forrest Remsburg formerly Miss Helen Sexton, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis M. Sexton, here today. The little girl has been named Helen Sexton.

SERBIA OPENS WAR ON BULGARIA

Official Document Says Action Was taken Because of Attacks by Enemy Country.

ALL HOPES OF NO FIGHT END

Deemed Possibility That Prudence Might Lead Czar Ferdinand Not to go so Far.

(By United Press.) London, Oct. 15.—Serbia declared war on Bulgaria today.

The official Serbian declaration was received here today and said the state of war with Bulgaria existed because of the latter's attack along the line from Zaitcher to Radovista.

Announcement of the Serbian action ended all hopes that Bulgaria might not actually fight with the Teutonic allies.

Warlike as Czar Ferdinand's attitude has been, it had been deemed a possibility until today that prudence might lead him to stop at fully armed neutrality. A report that Bulgaria declared war on Serbia several days ago has not been officially verified and while there certainly has been frontier fighting it was thought perhaps this was but mere clashing between border patrols such as has been going on in the Balkans most of the time.

BOMBARDMENT IS VIOLENT

Heavy Artillery Fight Progresses Northeast of Souchez.

Paris, Oct. 15.—A violent bombardment raged throughout Thursday night before Loos, the French war office statement said today. A fierce artillery fight progressed also northeast of Souchez.

There were hot grenade exchanges in trenches at some points. All along the Champagne front the Germans directed an intense cannonade against the French front, the French batteries replying energetically.

ARE SENT TO PENAL FARM

Two Raysville Men Get Four Months and $10 Fine Each.

Russell Lozier and Floyd Shaffer of Raysville, which adjoins Knightstown, were sentenced to four months in the state penal farm in the Henry circuit court at Newcastle Thursday and were fined ten dollars and costs each. They were involved in a cutting and shooting fray in Raysville about two months ago. The charges of assault and battery with intent to kill against both men were dismissed and they pleaded guilty to charges of assault and battery.

Not many couples have the privilege of celebrating their sixtieth wedding anniversary, but such is the good fortune of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Hill who celebrated three score years of wedded life at their home Thursday. Mr. Hill came to Indiana from Carolina when a small boy, his father settling in Rush county, Indiana, and is nearing her seventy-ninth birthday. They were married Oct. 14, 1855, coming through hub-deep mud and fording high waters to their present home.

POTATOES GOOD FEED FOR HOGS

Experiments of Department of Agriculture Show That 4 1/2 Bushels Equal Bushel of Corn

SHOULD BE COOKED FIRST

Suggestions Issued Regarding Prevention of Hog Cholera, Which is Prevalent Now

(By United Press.)

Washington, Oct. 15.—Potatoes as profitable feed for hogs are receiving attention from agricultural experts. Department of Agriculture experiments indicate that 4 1/2 bushels of cooked potatoes (18 to 20 cents a bushel) will add as much weight to hogs as a bushel of corn (80 cents a bushel).

During surplus production and consequent low prices it may be advantageous for the farmer to feed potatoes to his hogs rather than haul them to market.

Potatoes are fed to best advantage when cooked or steamed and mixed with other feeds. Raw potatoes, fed alone, often cause "scours." On the other hand, in small quantities they add succulence to the diet and may be beneficial to the pigs.

In cooking potatoes for feeding hogs, only enough water should be used to make a mealy mash to prevent burning. The meal should also be mixed with corn meal or some other grain. Skimmed milk, tankage or meat meal probably adds to the usefulness of the feed.

WARDING OFF HOG CHOLERA

In its campaign against hog cholera, which annually destroys live stock to the value of many millions of dollars, the Department of Agriculture has issued suggestions to the owners to aid them avoiding infection. Hog cholera is most prevalent in late summer and fall. These suggestions deserve particular attention now. They are:

To keep hog cholera out of the herd:

1. Locate your hog lots and pastures away from streams and public highways, and do not allow the hogs to run free range.
2. Do not visit your neighbor or allow him to visit you, if either of you have hog cholera on your premises.
3. Do not drive into hog lots when returning from market or after driving on public highways.
4. Do not use hog lots for yarding wagons and farm implements.
5. Do not place newly purchased stock, stock secured or loaned for breeding purposes, or stock exhibited at county fairs with your herd. Keep such stock quarantined at least two weeks, and use care to prevent carrying infection from these to other pens in feeding and attending stock.
6. Burn to ashes or cover with quicklime and bury under four feet of earth all dead animals and the viscera removed from animals at butchering time. They attract the attention of buzzards, dogs, etc., which are liable to carry hog cholera infection.
7. Confine your dogs and do not keep pigeons unless you confine them.

If hog cholera appears in your herd:

Treat your hogs immediately with antihog cholera serum, after which they should be kept on a light diet and pure drinking water and confined to limited quarters that may be cleaned daily and sprayed three times a week with 1 pound of compound cresol solution to 30 parts of water until the disease has abated in the herd. To obtain the best results the serum must be administered before the disease has progressed in the herd.

To rid the premises of infection:

Remove all manure and saturate with quicklime.

Burn all litter, rubbish and old hog troughs.

After the premises are thoroughly cleaned, spray walls, floors, and other surfaces with disinfectant. Use a compound of each solution to 30 parts of water. Wash the house and cover small turn them over, exposing interior to sunlight.

Wallow holes and cesspools should be filled in, drained or fenced off.
All runs underneath buildings should be cleaned and disinfected and then boarded up.
Destroy hogs that do not fully recover, as they may be carriers of cholera infection.

CINCINNATI IS LIVELY AND BUOYANT NOW

Harry Tepe Tells How He Was Benefited by Using Tanlac.

Cincinnati, O., Oct. 14.—"My nerves now are as steady as any man's," said Harry Tepe, well-known Cincinnati, who lives at 2321 Columbia avenue, when recently discussing his experience with Tanlac, the celebrated medicine now being introduced here.

"I was extremely nervous," Mr. Tepe continued, "and my system was run down. I had a very poor appetite and my sleep was unsatisfactory. I had little ambition and tired easily. Since taking Tanlac it is entirely different. My nerves are steady and I sleep peacefully. I have a ravenous appetite. I feel buoyant and am filled with new life. In fact, I feel like a different man in every respect."

"Such statements as the foregoing should appeal directly to the thousands of those directly to: and of those who suffer from troubles similar to Mr. Tepe's," L. T. Cooper, the Tanlac Man, said.

"Most of such people," he continued, "suffer from nervousness, dizziness, headache, stomach and liver trouble, backache, kidney derangements, depression of spirits, imperfect digestion, sleeplessness, or are susceptible to coughs and colds."

"In all instances of this character Tanlac seems to go straight to the spot, toning up and invigorating every organ of the body. The results are really amazing, as it apparently makes you like old-fashioned people were—strong, sturdy and well."

Tanlac, the Master Medicine, is now sold in Nashville at F. E. Wolcott's Drug Store.

Attention is called to the fact that the Commercial Night School will be held in the Graham building and holds two hour sessions three nights in the week. Come to the Superintendent's office and investigate for yourself. 18513

NEW YORK FASHION NOTES

By MARGARET MASON
(Written for United Press.)
Pictures of your granny
When she was young, my dear
You used to laugh and giggle
But look now in your mirror
And you will plainly see
You're dressed up just like granny
And mighty chic you be.
New York, Oct. 15.—This year's type of girl is the daguerrotype. Hoops, mits, bustles and pantalets, not a thing missing.
For two or three seasons now there has been a threat of pantalets in the offing but they have made very few appearances in the "onings" as they were. This year it really looks as if they were going to hang on to the lower limbs of some of our very best family trees, however.
They are really most attractive, these 1915 pantalets. Those for wear with street and daytime frocks are almost as wide and voluminous as divided skirts. To go with the smart fur-banded gowns now so popular the pantalets are also finished with a band of fur around the ankles and sometimes a ruching of the material is used below the fur.
Charming lace and net pantalets like those we saw occasionally last season are for wear with the fluffy dance frocks whose skirts are almost as short and bouffant as those of a belle of the ballet. A new note is struck in evening pantalets by a striking model of silk cut like the straight long pants of a Chinese belle and banded with gold or silver galloon as a finish.

Speaking of galloon, a novel use of this metallic banding is shown on a model evening frock worn in Marie Tempest's present play. It is a gown of "Pompadour" silk with light bodies and over the full, extremely full, and short, extremely short, skirt an even fuller overskirt of white tulle finished with a band of silver galloon around the hem caught here and there with tiny artificial nose rays. The stiff galloon acts delightfully in lieu of wire to give that desirable crinoline effect.
For yes indeed, though we aren't wearing the real old-fashioned hoops yet we are getting the same results with less bulky and more sanitary contraptions, mostly wire.
While most of the wiring is done around the hem of the full short skirts, yet another effect is obtained by wiring out sideways over the hips. This builds you out sideways like Velasquez's celebrated portrait of the Spanish Infanta.
If you don't care for these side extensions, however, Fashion is most elastic this year and allows a rear extension with equal impunity.
It's the good old bustle again of course, brought up to date by being formed of rippling folds of skirt back breadths. This back draped bustle effect is much favored on formal evening gowns of heavy satin or velvet that are very décollete and long of train.
Quite the most reminiscent of dear old granny's youth is a model jacket suit of black and wool plaid. It has a short full skirt and little short full jacket which once reveals to startled modern eyes a little low necked waist of the plaid absolutely sleeveless save for tiny cap-like puffs of the plaid over each shoulder. With this sleeveless day-time gown are worn quaint kid gloves reaching midway of the forearm and laced up the side.
These side-laced gloves are quite the newest feature at hand and are worn with every sort of day time toilette. Black lace mitts are also permitted with dressy afternoon frocks. Though the gloves are laced they aren't laced you understand whereas the mitts are not laced but are lace.
The little top hats worn over one eye, the flowing window curtain veils, the little round muffs and rippling shoulder capes of fur, the extra high buttoned boots for day wear and the high ribbon laced cothurns for evening all, all are old stuff lifted from the heyday of our granddames youth.
Quite the only thing we seem to have overlooked in our wholesale copying is of course what would have profited us the most—meaning of course her lovely old-world tact and courtesy.

HUNTERS ARE GOOD PEACE ADVOCATES
They Are Going to Feel Effects of War Because of Heavy Demand For Explosives in Europe.

QUAIL SEASON COMING ON
As a peace advocate the average hunter nowadays ought to win the gold medal. He would be in the foremost ranks of those suing for peace, if such a thing were under way, because the war is hitting his purse hard. He has to pay much more for his ammunition this year because the European conflicts has made the demand for explosives so great that the price has advanced rapidly. The effect of the war on the price was not felt last season because the European supply of ammunition had not been materially decreased by that time.
The quail season will open the tenth of December. Some local sportsmen are aware of the fact that they will have to pay an increased price for shells. The dealer does not get the benefit of the increase. His margin is just the same and he is hit just as hard as the consumer.

This is because Vinol contains the tissue building, strengthening food liver elements and the tonic from which a weak and run-down system needs.

WHEAT CROPS LOSING PRESTIGE

Close Observers Say Farmers Are

Not Planting so Much as Formerly Because of Risk.

THIS YEAR DISCOURAGING

When What Promised to be "Bum-

per" Crop Turns Out so Badly,

Growers Naturally Lose Hope.

Is wheat growing coming to be a "lost art" so far as the farmers of Rush county are concerned?

Persons who have had an occasion to go out through the county within the last few days deny that it is. But they add that the crop has suffered greatly in the prestige in which it is held by the farmers of the county and that the crop of next year—irrespective of the weather—will be one of the smallest in the history of the county.

At the door of wet weather which caused the crop this year to be cut down from what was expected to be a "bumper" to one which was only 50 per cent of the normal can be laid the death of the wheat prestige, say the investigators.

"Farmers are not planting as much wheat this fall as they did last year or in the years previous," said one of this number. "So far as market conditions, are concerned it would seem that the contrary would be the case. For the wheat is now selling at right around $1 and the prospects for its going higher with the continuance of the war and the continued looking up of the Dardanelles are very bright.

"But the farmers have been discouraged by the failures, in the last few years, have been more than plentiful. They do not care to risk their time, money and land and efforts on a crop which may prove a failure in growth and which, even though successful in this particular, is likely to bring them only a small share of the returns which another line of agriculture would net them.

Most of the wheat already is in the ground. Farmers are wishing for cooler weather just now.

Silos all over the country now have been filled with the largest amount of silage which Rush county has ever stored away for winter stock feeding.

HOLDS PRIMARY SATURDAY

Republicans of Knightstown Will Pick Ticket For Election Nov. 2.

The Republicans of Knightstown will hold a primary Saturday to select candidates for the town election Tuesday, November 2. The primary was hastily arranged because the attorney general just decided a few days ago that incorporated town elections would be conducted under the 1909 act due to a mistake in the amendment passed this year. A marshal, clerk, treasurer and four councilmen are to be elected. Five seek the marshal's place on the Republican ticket.

INSTANCE OF PREVISION.

London, Sept. 15. (By Mail.) A remarkable instance of prevision relating to the war was cited here today with an extract from a letter written by the famous General Gordon, to a friend, in 1882. He wrote: "Every Briton should think of the future and each one should insist on the government passing a measure for compulsory universal military training! So far as England is concerned, she need not, for the next quarter of a century, be under any apprehension of serious difficulties arising with any of her European neighbors, but in 1910 or thereabouts there will have arisen a naval power which may prove mightier than she, and should she (Germany) gain the supremacy, England will become extinct both as a land and sea power, and all her dependencies, including India, will fall into Germany's clutches. You may live to see this. I shall not, but when that time comes. Remember my words."

is not a stove, not a furnace, but a heating system that combines the best features of both. It sets in the room like a stove, its exterior looks like a stove, but there the similarity ends. For its interior is utterly different from any stove you have seen—inside is built like a hot air furnace.

Don't fail to take advantage of this opportunity to see this wonderful heater demonstrated by an expert.

CROOKS DRIVEN FROM EUROPE

New York Has Been Made The Biggest International Crook Center in The World

WAR GIVEN AS THE CAUSE

Police Now Teaching Public How to Guard Against Burglars—Many Robberies Reported

(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)
New York, Oct. 15.—The war has made New York the biggest "international crook center" in the world, authorities declare. Every city in the country likewise has its increased quota of crooks of all kinds driven from Europe.

It seems to be the women who are suffering most from the straight burglaries. To date this year the toll of the Snout-And-Jowl and Crafty-Debonair brigades in Gotham alone totals nearly half a million dollars in gems and cash. Practically all the big robberies have been from wealthy women's homes.

While Mrs. Elizabeth Nichols sat in the drawing room of her Brooklyn residence, a thief entered, frightened Mrs. Nichols so she died, then walked out with $10,000 worth of jewelry.

Inspector Joseph A. Faurot, Chief of the New York Detective bureau, has issued a lengthy warning to the women of the country on how to protect their homes from burglars, hundreds of whom have come from Europe with their more subtle brothers and sisters who travel first cabin. Above is a brief of Faurot's advice.

There are three months left for the crooks to make a 1915 international record here and they promise to do it.

Driven from their lucrative and accustomed haunts at Monte Carlo, London, Paris, Berlin and like famed continental resorts, the crooks have swooped down and settled upon New York as the loudest plague once swept the Kansas prairies.

They're a clever crew, for the most part; barring the international strong-arm and second-story worker, who is just a prosperous low-brow. It's the educated, crafty shrewd men and women crooks—white-collared scoundrels who are driving the New York detectives plumb distracted.

Since January, fifteen "big jobs," of $3000 or over, have been successfully put over by what is believed to be an organized band of clever criminals aided, maybe, by servants in wealthy households.

Proceeds from the fifteen hauls total nearly $350,000 and there have been hundreds of robberies ranging from $100 to $2,500.

Some of the heaviest losers are Mrs. Sherwood Aldrich, whose summer house at Southampton, L. I., was robbed of $70,000 in gems. Mrs. James McMillan, whose summer place at Manchester-by-the-Sea was robbed of jewels valued at $75,000; Mrs. E. Clifton Potter, from whose summer place at East Hampton, L. I., thieves obtained $50,000 in gems; Mrs. Barbara Wright, Brooklyn, $25,000.

Rewards totaling almost $50,000 are still in force on some of the larger robberies.

London, Sept. 22. (By Mail)—If the English supply of tobacco and pipes only holds out, there can be no question as to the final favorable outcome for the Allies. This, at least, is Tommy Atkins' opinion.

Recently he has cited concrete examples to prove this thesis and persuaded the British public to contribute more liberally towards the tobacco pouch in France and the Dardanelles.

"It takes heroes to win a battle and the thing most necessary to make Tommy a hero is a faithful pipe that will stand by him in any emergency."

Recently he has cited concrete examples to prove this thesis and persuaded the British public to contribute more liberally towards the tobacco pouch in France and the Dardanelles.

There was Lieutenant W. Forshaw, who won the Victoria Cross at Gallipoli. Threw bombs continuously for forty-four hours, using his pipe and cigarettes for lighting fuses. Tommy insists he could have used his cigarette lighter just as effectively, but that without smoking he could not have withstood the strain.

There was E. Berry, sapper of the First London Field company. He found a parapet too high for his machine gun. So he lighted his pipe, climbed the parapet, and pulling the gun up after him continued in action. He got the Distinguished Conduct Medal for it. But Tommy insist that the encouragement of his pipe did it.

Only a soldier at the front, Tommy, insists, knows the real value of a smoke. To illustrate, he declares there was a Tommy who during the retreat from Mons M. was lucky enough to find a horse. He kept astride for a whole day, making fair progress. Then he traded the nag to an artilleryman for a package of cigarettes. Just as he knew would be the case, the Tommy was able, with a cigarette in his mouth, to make faster progress afoot than astride.

Even civilian life has been drawn upon by Tommy to move the British public to contributions. Following the fall of Liege last year, he asserts that an aged man with two grandchildren limped into Ostend after a tramp of over 100 miles. He had no money and only what food was given him by charitable people along the way.

"But I had one thing," he told the Tommies at Ostend, "that sustained me wonderfully, my pipe and plenty of tobacco. I don't believe I should have been able to reach Ostend alive if I had not been able to light up when I wanted to."

What worries Tommy, in his present agitation to secure tobacco contributions, is the French. He insists the French tobacco is vile. Yet he has to admit that the French "poilus" fight just as bravely as he does. His only explanation is that possibly the French soldier has some other sources of inspiration besides his pipe. In which event, he argues, the British should contribute all the more liberally, first that he may not be forced to have recourse to French tobacco, and secondly that he may not be rendered any less brave than the French.

MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take a glass of Salts if your Back hurts or Bladder bothers—Meat forms uric acid.

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.

IF YOU'RE FAIR AND SQUARE THE WORLD WILL SHARE WITH YOU ITS BLESSINGS RARE!

The blessing of a well stocked pantry shelf purchased at honest prices and delivered on time is appreciated by the housewife. We have builded a business in this town of which we are justly proud. Experiment a grocery order—see what we mean.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed, it is like a rubber tube plugged with cotton, and the sound waves cannot enter the ear. It is entirely cured, and the hearing is restored, and when it is entirely cured, it is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Deafness is caused by Catarrh of the Eustachian Tube, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

ONE CENT A MEAL FOR 1 YEAR

In almost every home there are practically one thousand meals a year prepared on the stove. Many people hesitate about paying five or ten dollars more to secure a reliable range—one that will cook these thousands meals a year with the least trouble and at the lowest cost. If you should add just one cent to the cost of every meal for the first year only, you would soon make up the difference between the cheap range and the range that will last a lifetime.

Suppose your cheap range uses one cent's more of fuel in cooking each meal, or only three cents' worth more a day. In one year this range has cost you ten dollars extra—ten dollars more for fuel than the better range. Every year means that much more money burned up.

Suppose the better range does cost ten dollars more at first than the cheap one. The extra cost is nothing—it amounts to only one cent a meal. It will save that one cent a meal in fuel alone. In one year it will save the extra cost and in ten years it will save you one hundred dollars not counting what you save missing big repair bills.

You can open a bank account in your kitchen by buying a SOUTH BEND MALLEABLE RANGE.

An expert demonstrator from the factory will be at our store for one week. He will tell you about the Patented Aluminum-Fused Copper-Bearing Flues. And prove to you why it is the best range made.

Storm Buggies that Will Keep You Warm, Look Nice and Wear Well. That's the Kind.

Everybody wants a nice storm buggy and I have one for everybody. Some of my competitors are going to quit selling buggies, or at least they advertise they are, and I am going to take their word for it, and just between ourselves, I have been looking for it for sometime, and I have reason for looking for it. Every year I sell more buggies than I did the year before and there is not much room left for competition. You naturally ask the question "How do you increase your buggy business all the time?" and the answer is that I give more buggy value for the money than anyone else, treat everybody alike and treat them right. I can prove I give more value for the money than my competitors as I am handling a storm buggy this winter, formally sold by one of my competitors, and I am selling it for $10.00 less than it ever sold for before, remember the same buggy for $10.00 less. Maybe you bought one last year and paid the extra $10.00. If you did, remember when you need a buggy look around. It has saved lots of vehicle buyers money to buy them of me, and I want you for a customer. The only way you can sell things right, is to buy them right, and not throwing any bouquets at myself, I sure buy right and I want to give you the advantage of good buying. Good buying, and a large volume of business make it possible for me to sell you a buggy from $10.00 to $15.00 cheaper than any one else. It is a simple proposition to figure out how it is done, and when you get ready to buy a buggy, buy where the majority buy, and save.

A STUDY IN INDIANA HISTORY

The following is the second and last installment of a paper entitled "A Study of Indiana History" which Miss Genevieve Brown, history instructor in the high school, read before the city teachers' institute last Saturday:

We were weakened in the fight, but not by the usual method of wreaking life and rattling drum. Officers went to the low tents of the men and, stooping down, called in subdued tones. All fires or lights were prohibited and orders were stringent against noises of any kind. Packing up quickly the column moved stealthily in the murky darkness. No conversation, except in whispers, being permitted, there was nothing to do, but each to follow his file leader and meditate up on the situation. Daylight found the regiment of the 3d Brigade massed close together and resting not far from the buildings of Mr. Meleko. * * * some one hundred miles east of the Hagerstown pike. The first corps, under Hooker men occupies the front line. Our own little corps, is in reserve. In the first gray dawn the pickets open fire. Muskets never seem to crack so loudly and wickedly as on the picket line when a great battle is expected. A few shots then send the blood whirling to the finger tips of the whole army. Bang, bang, bang! The musketry increases rapidly, and almost immediately—boom! boom! The cannon join in to increase the uproar. These are the signal guns announcing a day of fate. In a short time the battle has assumed large proportions.

When the firing begins, the regiment of our brigade fall into ranks and the 27th marches forward of Mr. Nulikoff's log barn, only a few rods. The regiment is then thrown into columns of division, close order, arms are stocked and the command given, "Rest at will." We are now ready for any order that may come.

While we wait, many of the men pour water out of their canteens into the little pails and make themselves a cup of coffee, over the small fire we have been permitted to kindle since daylight. With this black coffee and the crackers and raw pork from their haversacks, they eat a soldiers' luncheon. It seems certain that we must very soon join in a great battle. Few if any, forget that this may be the last food they will taste in this world, or the cost, as well men. In fact, few that reason some of the more excitable ones cannot eat a mouthful. Others, not overburdened with sentiment hateringly allege that they intend to eat all the more on that account. Yet, in one way or another, it is clearly revealed that the situation has awakened grave apprehensions with all. Many arrangements are made, quietly yet openly, which has reference to a possible dire contingency. Valuables and keepsakes are handed to members of the ambulance corps and others whose duties do not require them to be greatly exposed. Directions are given and requests are made, concerning business methods at home, the care of those dear and dependent, messages to friends in some instances, concerning the final disposition of ones own mortal remains.

Our position is a little to one side of the right of the enemy's artillery. We can see dozens and scores of shells as they sail harmlessly by describing graceful curves. Under other circumstances we might enjoy the display. Numerous round shot, aimed lower, also go bounding along, plowing furrows in the ground and crashing through whatever they come in contact with.

The wounded are coming back in large numbers. Many though badly hurt are able to walk alone, many others are assisted to walk and some are carried or hauled. Most of those passing near have something to say. Every word is one of encouragement and cheer. These heroic men are torn and bleeding, some of them are dying, but none of them are whipped or demoralized.

Upon the high ground to our right we have panicked "Skedaddles" runs by. Judge of the character of the troops in our front when the fact is stated, and it is a fact, that his was the only able-bodied soldier seen running out of the fight! This one is in a cornfield and runs zig zag among the corn, dodging frantically from one hill across to another in the opposite row, as if trying to escape from a swarm of bees. At the sound of a passing shell he throws himself upon the ground and remains motionless, with his nose rooted in the soil. This is the more ludicrous to us because we can see no shells, and can see plainly though besides having passed him before he fell down, it had missed him by a wide margin. Eventually, he jumps to his feet and runs as before. While the boys laugh, they also guy him unmercifully, heaping upon him epithets far more true than complimentary. But nothing stops him.

Meanwhile the battle is raging. The roar of cannon is incessant and the discharge of musketry is far more than a continuous rattle. There is a succession of great waves of sound, one following another, as if brigades or divisions are firing in rapid, well-timed volleys. Intermingled with the artillery, musketry and cheers of the combatants, and other sounds not distinguishable. It is a cannonading and confusion of noise, as it rolls over the hills like a deluge.

The progress of a devastating cyclone, with it lashing and snapping of trees, its creaking and grating of buildings rent asunder and toppling over; its screaming and shrieking of men and animals in mortal terror and agony and a thousand other ear-splitting, blood-curdling sounds, all added to the rush and roar of the wind, the darkening of the clouds, the blinding of the dust and the rumble and peal of thunder is the only other human experience that the writer would venture to compare with a battle, such as we were waiting to enter that morning." (The writer of this was a boy not yet 18). The following extract from the same book follows the battle of Chancellorsville the next spring.

"The first night and first few days after returning to our quarters near Stafford court house, the harsh relentless side of war come home to us closer, perhaps than at any other time during our service. When we turned into our company streets that night after returning from Chancellorsville and set about readjusting ourselves to former conditions, it required resolute will power to sustain us. The bare facts were so pitiless! Some whole messes were entirely wiped out; not a man was left to claim the deserted hut. In others one or perhaps two remained. In all there were shocking vacancies. Some companies had no commissioned officers, others had but one and some had more than two. Those who had endeared themselves by long and capable service and many acts of thoughtful kindness, were gone. A roll of thirteen non commissioned officers were reduced in most cases, to four or five. A company, at roll call, looked like an ordinary detail for guard. And those forever lost to us, known to be dead, left unburied in the hands of the enemy, henceforth to fill nameless graves, and for no good purpose, in many instances were the noblest, truest, worthiest of us all. It is a wonder that is almost broke our heart!

A loss sadly noticed at the time, and which never ceased to be felt, was the breaking up of the glee club of company C. This squad of singers has been mentioned heretofore. They come into more and more prominence, relatively as our service lengthened. They used to sing, "Old Kentucky Home," and other sentimental songs as well, as the standard patriotic songs of the time in a delightful way. Many pleasant hours had been passed in camp listening to their sweet singing while the weariness of many a toilsome march had been relieved or forgotten, under the spell of some ringing song.

At times when strength seemed about to fail and the spirits of the men were at a low ebb, the colonel or someone else, would call for a song, "Where are you boys, could you give us a song?" At this, the soprano whose voice was really feminine in its intonation, would start "John Brown" or Rally around The Flag, Boys." Others would take up the strain and all who could sing would join in the chorus until from one end of the column to the other, would resound a tremendous volume of melody. And it never failed to help. Feet did not feel quite so sore; limbs quite so weary; knapsacks and guns did not seem quite so heavy; nor distances quite so long. But all this was over after the battle of Chancellorsville. The soprano, a glorious, good soldier, as well as one of the brightest most companionable boys that ever lived, was shot in the body and died in a few hours. Two others of the glee club were so badly wounded that it practically ended their services with the 27th. The boys were sorely missed.—O for a sign of a vanished head, And a voice that is forever still!

There are hundreds of special topics that might be considered in detail in this third political period of our state history. The underground R. R., Indiana's war governor. The life as comp Norton. The women at home during the war; the life of any of Indiana's regiment; Indiana's record in the war; has been suggested as topics of especial interest.

The fourth and last period is the epoch since the close of the Civil war. Think what a field of research that period opens up. The depths of our school system in the past fifty years; A companion of the factory life in Indiana and in Rush Co., at the close of the civil war, with conditions as they prevail today. The changes in agricultural life and at the attitude assumed toward agricultural life in our day from that of a half century past. Indiana's record in the Spanish-American war—and so on.

The whole thing in a nut shell teaches us I see it is this we are living in, a peculiarly and particularly critical period in our national and state life. The Caucasian world is involved in a gigantic work which many people think well eventually involve us; we are riding at the crest of the wave of political and social unrest. Is it not exactly the right time for us here in Indiana to stop ourselves on the eve of our hundredth birthday to take an inventory of our strength and make a true estimate of ourselves. But can we estimate ourselves unless we know something about ourselves; are we living up to the fine high standards and ideals that our forefathers here in this state have established for us? Is saluting the flag and singing "Hail Indiana" the real way to create patriotism and loyalty and devotion to country in this new generation. Let us, rather teachers make a consistent, energetic, interesting study of Indiana's political history, its work in art, in literature, in music, in science, in general human welfare, and then thoroughly aroused by our own knowledge and enthusiasms let us pass it on through general class room work, special programs. Perhaps even a special day of talks songs and the like, to those to whom we have pledged ourselves to give our best. Remembering that nothing seems valuable that we know nothing of that we cannot expect loyalty and enthusiasm for this centennial celebration from our pupils, unless both we and they know why and what we are actually celebrating.

OLD AND NEW WAY TO TREAT CATARRH

Breathing a Germ Killing Air Endorsed by Actual Results.

The discovery of Hyomei has wrought a wonderful change in the treatment of catarrh.

Prior to three years ago the medicine ordinarily employed in the cure of this disease were drugs, sprays, lotions, etc. In some instances they benefited, but the improvement was not lasting.

With Hyomei you take into the air passages of your throat and head a balsamic air that goes into the minutest cells, and should effectually kill all germs and microbes of catarrh. Its purpose is to enter the blood with the oxygen, killing the germs in the blood, and restore health to the whole system. Many astonishing testimonials have been received from those who have been helped by Hyomei.

A complete outfit is inexpensive and includes an inhaler, dropper and sufficient Hyomei for several weeks' treatment.

Perhaps the strongest evidence that can be given to doubters, is the fact that Johnson's Drug Store have so much faith in Hyomei that they sell every package under a positive guarantee to refund the money if it does not relieve.

FARMERS RACE WITH JACK FROST

Select Seed Corn Today in Keeping

With Warning Sent Out by Purdue University

PROCLAMATION BY GOVERNOR

Crop Has Matured Slowly And For

This Reason Better to Select
It in Field

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Oct. 14.—Indiana farmers today engaged in a race with Jack Frost to see which would get to the seed corn that is to father next year's crop.

Warned by Purdue University and again by Governor Ralston that unless speedy work is done the frost will nip the seed corn, country agents today did their best to round up farmers for the "seed corn bee." This was Seed Corn Day by proclamation of the governor.

Owing to the unusual cold weather, the corn crop has matured slowly, said a bulletin issued at Purdue. "Much of the corn is still green. If the farmers are to secure seed corn strong in vitality, it is necessary, that they select from the field before the time of heavy frosts. Experiments conducted at the Purdue experiment station show that corn selected at the time of the general harvest in November germinated only 80 percent."

The Indiana Corn Grower's association in a recent letter to the governor said that the 1916 Indiana corn crop can be increased by 25,000,000 bushels if the seed is selected this fall before the heavy frosts and is properly saved during the winter.

Amusements

The management of the Shubert Murat Theater, Indianapolis, has the honor to announce that Walker Whiteside, the famous star who numbers his followers by thousands, through his performances in "The Melting Pot" and "The Typhoon," will appear in his latest triumph, "The Ragged Messenger" next week beginning Monday, Oct. 18.

"The Ragged Messenger," has been playing in the Princess Theatre, Chicago, where it has created a wave of excitement that is remarkable for a theatrical production. Mr. Whiteside will bring the entire lavish production and distinguished company here, the same company which, during the Christmas holidays, will present the play in the Cort Theater, New York, where "Peg O' My Heart" had its record breaking run.

Mr. Whiteside appears in the part of John Morton, a militant clergyman, who has left the church in order to get closer to the masses in the slums of London. While he is delivering from street corners the message which inspires him, he is accosted by a girl who appeals to him to help. When some of his aristocratic friends refuse to help the girl, he marries her. Then he falls heir to millions, left him by a remote relative. His wife grows ambitious, but is thwarted in her dreams of luxury by Morton who is resolved to give all the money to the poor. How she dishonors herself to be revenged on him, makes the play's breathlessly exciting climax.

"This play is fascinating in its contrasting scenes between the luxury of the drawing rooms of London's smart set, and the crowded streets in the slums of the White chapel district. "It is furiously dramatic," said Ary Leslie in the Chicago News and gave Mr. Whiteside the last word of praise, saying "he handles the big scenes with force and splendor."

Seats are now on sale here and may be obtained from the local agent of the Murat Theater.

By GEORGE R. HOLMES

(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

New York, Oct. 15.—The schedule makers for 1915 were kind to the dopsters. Through a kindly kink in the 1915 "playing" chart, it will be possible tomorrow night to form an idea of how Yale and Harvard compare for their annual gridiron tussle.

The big Crimson eleven gets the acid test when it lines up against the University of Virginia team, which two weeks ago sprung the surprise of the present season by defeating Yale on her own field, 10 to 0. By the comparative score route, the football world should have some food for thought after tomorrow's battle at Cambridge. It isn't often that a chance to get a line on the big fellows comes so early in the season.

About all that can be said about the game is that Percy Haughton has a battle on his hands that is many degrees removed from a tea party. In Thurman, Virginia probably has as good a kicker as there is in the game this year, and he defeated Yale practically single-handed. Virginia's victory wasn't a fluke—it was earned, a fact of which Haughton is probably fully aware. That he will throw his full strength into the breach goes without saying.

Virginia has a lot to fight for. Victories over Yale and Harvard—the peers of the collegiate kingdom, in a single year would raise the southern school to an enviable position in the athletic world.

Yale meets Springfield tomorrow. The Massachusetts institution generally has a team of huskies, but the Blue should win in rather easy style. Since the Virginia defeat, Frank Hinkley, has given the Eli eleven one of the biggest shaking-up in Yale's football history, and the result of the jostling will be watched with much concern by Yale partisans.

Princeton should run up an overwhelming score against Lafayette. The Pennsylvania boys aren't so strong this year as in other years, and should be meat for the Tigers.

There is a strong suspicion that the Navy is in for a drubbing at the hands of Pennsylvania tomorrow. The Middies were showed up in rather bad light by Georgetown a few weeks ago.

Cornell, Dartmouth and the Army should have comparatively easy games with Bucknell, Vermont and Colgate, respectively.

In the West, three conference games are on docket, which alone are enough to insure a day of classic football entertainment.

Chicago undoubtedly will administer her annual drubbing to Indiana. It isn't an event for Chicago to lick Indiana any more—it's a habit, and there is no reason to expect any upset this year. Indiana has changed her style of play in the last two years with the coming of Clarence Childs, a Yale man, but from press dispatches she doesn't compare favorably with Stagg's aggregation.

The Wisconsin-Purdue game should be a pretty battle, and the Badgers should win. Purdue has been held to a 7-7 tie with little Wabash this season, which doesn't give her much prestige in conference ranks. Coach Bill Juneau's big team, captained by Howard Buck, as good a football man as will be found in the country, rolled up an avalanche of 87 points against Lawrence a few Saturdays ago, showing at least that the Badgers have a rather formidable scoring machine.

Minnesota, favored in some quarters to capture the Big Nine title re-neges on her conference sisters and tucks South Dakota.

Coach Hawley's Iowa team plays Northwestern, Michigan meets Case, Missouri takes on Oklahoma and Nebraska lines up against Washburn—rounding out an attractive schedule for mid-October.

THE MAUZY COMPANY

offers Suits and Coats for women and misses at prices that will bear the scrutiny of comparison.

There seems to be a tradition throughout the suit and coat business in larger cities that in order to interest any woman in a garment, she must be told that it is worth much more than the price she is asked to pay for it.

Mauzy's suits and coats are different. No visionary or imaginary values are placed upon them. But at the same time great care is taken to see that they are worth all you pay for them, no matter what you pay nor how you make comparisons.

Primarily the style of a garment is of supreme importance to the woman who wears it. Original creations command tremendous prices because of their exclusiveness. Mauzy's styles are copies and adaptations of original styles that obtain their vogue in Paris and New York.

Mauzy's Woolltex suits and coats are all sold with a positive and irrevocable guarantee that every garment is guaranteed for two season's satisfactory wear and that they are all wool. This does not mean the so-called "commercial all-wool" but does mean strictly all-wool.

At the present time our stock is comprehensive, embracing a splendid line of colors, fabrics and models.
